GUTTED HULL OF THE QUEEN

SINKING IN HONG KONG HARBOR (UPI TELEPHOTO)

'She Just Rolled Over and Died'

HONG KONG (AP) — The once-proud passenger liner Queen Elizabeth, transformed into an 83,000-ton incinerator by 24 hours of fires and explosions, capsized today in Hong Kong harbor halfway around the world from the Atlantic sealanes she once ruled.

"She rolled over and died," said a Marine Department spokesman at the outlying Tsing Yi island anchorage where the 1,031-foot former pride of the Cunard Line was being converted for use as a combination cruise ship and floating university for Chapman College of Orange, Calif.

The Seawise University as the ship had been renamed was lying on her side, her one remaining funnel just above the water line. The other funnel collapsed earlier in the fire.

Firefighting officials said they believed no one died in the fire. Between 800 and 900 workmen were believed aboard the ship when fire broke out Sunday, but most of them got off by the normal exits. About 200 others jumped into the harbor or clambered down ropes and anchor chains. Nine Chinese workmen were hospitalized for injuries and scores more were given first aid.

The cause of the fire was not known, but the ship's last British master, Commodore Geoffrey Marr, said at his home in England: "I do not believe this fire could have started accidentally. The flames spread too quickly for that. It must be sabotage. I cannot understand how it could have spread so quickly unless it started in two or three places simultaneously."

One officer of the Hong Kong fire service also commented that the spread of the fire through the ship's 11 decks was fast."

Investigating authorities said they had not ruled out the possibility of arson.

The fire-blackened bulk lay on the bottom in 50 feet of water, gray smoke still pouring up.

"When it keeled over it was possible to see right through the vessel, from the top right down to the keel, because all 11 decks had collapsed," Gordon Milward of the Marine Department said.

Upstate Man Killed in Saugerties Accident

By WALTER S. CLARK

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES — A 36-year-old upstate man was killed and his wife and their three children were seriously hurt as the result of a two-car headon collision that occurred after 5 p. m. Sunday on Route 32 three miles north of Route 212 in this township.

Police throughout the area today reported a rash of traffic accidents on highways during a heavy fog and ice conditions on the roads that created a hazardous situation for motorists on their way to work.

The victim of the Saugerties fatality was Stephen Genza of the Otsego County community of Middlefield. He was pronounced dead by Ulster County Coroner Richard Buono of Saugerties. Death was due to multiple injuries.

Genza was the first person to die in traffic accidents in Ulster County this year.

Hurley State Police reported Genza was the driver of one of the vehicles involved in the Route 32 crash. The other car was operated by 51-year-old Robert J. O'Neill of Nanuet. He suffered multiple injuries and was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment. Later he was transferred to Albany Medical Center where his condition was listed as critical, authorities said.

Troopers said charges are pending.

Genza's wife, Linda, 32, suffered lacerations and possible fractures and internal injuries. Their daughter, Oleh, 13, was listed in critical condition at Benedictine Hospital. She suffered internal injuries and fractures. Irene Genza, 12, and her sister, Linda, 9, suffered cuts and abrasions.

The vehicles were going in opposite directions when the crash occurred, Hurley troopers reported.

Another area traffic fatality occurred Saturday night on Route 209 in the Orange County community of Deerpark. Killed in the mishap was 23-year-old Douglas DePace of the Sullivan county town of Westbrookville.

State Police said the victim was ejected from his car after it went out of control and struck a large tree.

While driving his car along Lucas Avenue shortly after 2 a.m. Sunday, Harry Lane, 20, of Spring Lake Mobile Estates, Kingston, apparently lost control as the vehicle left the driving lane at Merritt Avenue and hit a utility pole. The car continued on and came to a stop at porch steps at 305 Lucas Avenue.

Lane was taken to Benedictine Hospital and treated for contusions and abrasions of the head, chest and back according to a police report.

Another one-car accident investigated by Kingston Police occurrred shortly before 6 p.m. Saturday on Abeel Street near the entrance to Island Dock. Police said the vehicle was driven by Antoinette Mottsey, 17, of 207 Boices Lane.

The car was northbound when the operator lost control as the vehicle crossed the highway and hit an embankment. Then it continued on for 125 feet before it struck the corner of a building owned by the Eaton Trucking Company.

Miss Mottsey sustained lacerations of the face. A passenger in her car, Lucille Fassbender, 17, of River Road, Port Ewen, received cuts of the face. Both were taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment, police reported.

Shortly after 7 a.m. today, Benjamin Lardiere, 50, of 48 Shakertown Road, New Paltz, was injured when his car went out of control and slammed into guard rails near the IBM plant, Town of Ulster. The man was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance. He was treated for lacerations and contusions.

Labels Autobiography a Fraud

Howard Hughes Emerges From Seclusion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A guttural, relaxed-sounding voice on the telephone, identified by Howard Hughes' spokesmen as that of the billionaire industrialist emerging from long seclusion, said his purported forthcoming autobiography is a fraud.

"Patently false" and "a totally fantastic fiction" were other terms he used to describe the book in the long-distance conference with seven reporters gathered about a table in a Los Angeles hotel banquet room.

But the publishers, McGraw-Hill Book Co. and Life magazine, repeated Sunday their belief they have "the authentic biography."

All the newsmen agreed as the conference ended that it was Hughes' voice.

In Somerville, N.J., Lawrence Kersta, head of Voiceprint Laboratories and inventor of a system that permits voice identification so accurate it is admissible in court, compared tapes of the conversation with tapes of Hughes' voice made nearly 25 years ago.

Kersta concluded: "It is my opinion that it is indeed the voice of Howard Hughes."

Filmed Friday, the two-hour, 40-minute session was broadcast in part Sunday by radio stations and the NBC, CBS and ABC television networks. NBC, which filmed it, made films and sound tapes available to the other outlets.

In a voice that was a little raspy, pausing at times, the 66-year-old "phantom financier," whose fortune is estimated at $2 billion, said also:

—He plans to become less of a recluse, to resume flying and return eventually from the Bahamas to Las Vegas, Nev.

—He definitely expects to have a face-to-face interview with newsmen, intends to have photographs taken for public distribution and wants to resume movie production.

—His health is "tolerable," but he is not happy or content and is hounded by lawsuits and "overhanging threats" such as the alleged autobiography.

The news conference, said by Hughes' spokesmen to be his first in more than 15 years, provided the latest development in a dispute over the authenticity of the 230,000-word book which McGraw-Hill is scheduled to publish March 27. Life magazine plans to serialize three 10,000-word installments before then.

When McGraw-Hill announced in December it had acquired rights to the manuscript, a Hughes Tool Co. spokesman denied within hours that such a book exists.

Hughes said he was in Nassau in his top-floor quarters at the Brittania Beach Hotel.

Asked about Clifford Irving, listed as his collaborator on the autobiography, he said:

"I don't know him. I never saw him. I have never even heard of him until a matter of days ago when this thing first came to my attention."

A reporter remarked that McGraw-Hill and Life have said they satisfied themselves of the autobiography's authenticity.

"Well, I just don't see how it's possible," said Hughes. "I don't see how in the world statements of that kind could be made by people who at least have the resources to investigate and find the truth."

In a joint statement Sunday, Life and McGraw-Hill detailed for the first time some of their evidence that the book is authentic.

They said they have a 10-page handwritten letter from Hughes and endorsed checks representing payment to him. Experts have authenticated the writing, they said. In the news conference, Hughes denied receiving any checks from McGraw-Hill or Life.

The Hughes spokesman who invited the seven reporters to the interview said they were selected because they had spoken to the industrialist in the past.

They were Marvin Miles, Los Angeles Times; Wayne Thomis, Chicago Tribune; Gene Handsaker, The Associated Press; Vernon Scott, United Press International; Jim Bacon, Hearst Newspapers; and Roy Neal, an NBC correspondent who served as moderator; and Gladwin Hill, New York Times.

During the 160 minutes Hughes said:

—"I would like to see an accurate story of my life printed, because I think I have had experiences that could be helpful to others.

"But it's shocking that, apparently, instead of being able to convey something truthful to the public, I am forced to spend my available working hours in preventing this fraud from being circulated and put before the public."

—His fingernails and toenails are not six to eight inches long, as once reported. "I couldn't walk . . . I couldn't sign my name." But he does wear a Van Dyke beard.

—Most of his estate will go to medical research. "There is nothing that interests me more than medical research and the quest for better living facilities and better health and better medical standards, not only in the United States but throughout the world."

Asked "Why do you live the life of a recluse?" Hughes said: "I dont' really know. I will tell you one thing: I am rapidly planning to come out of it. In other words, I am not going to continue being quite as reclusive, as you call it, as I have been because it apparently has attracted so much attention that I have just got to live a somewhat modified life in order not to be an oddity."

Hysterical Welcome for Mujib

DACCA (UPI)—Bangladesh President Sheikh Mujibur Rahman returned home to a near-hysterical welcome today and said his country would be forever free from West Pakistan.

Wearing a dark suit and garlanded with flowers, Mujib told a huge crowd at the Dacca racetrack that "all links with Pakistan are snapped for good."

Mujib arrived at Dacca's bomb-scarred Tejgaon Airport aboard a white four-engine British Royal Air Force (RAF) Comet from New Delhi at 1:12 p.m. (2:52 a.m. EST).

It was the first time the president of Bangladesh has been in his new country and his first trip home in 9½ months. Mujib has been held in West Pakistan under a death sentence since last March for advocating autonomy for East Pakistan.

While he was in prison, his country came through a bitter civil war and won its freedom from West Pakistan in a 14-day war on the side of India.

Following a tumultuous welcome at the airport and a slow three-mile trip from the airport to the raceway in an open-backed police truck with a bullet hole in the windshield, Mujib told a crowd of tens of thousands of countrymen of his talks with Pakistan President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto.

"Mr. Bhutto wanted me to maintain some kind of links with Pakistan when he met me in Rawalpindi. I told him I cannot say anything now. In fact, I am not sure where I am. Let me tell Mr. Bhutto now that all links with Pakistan are snapped for good," Mujib said.

Mujib flew from Rawalpindi to London to New Delhi to Dacca, where he will take over as president from Acting President Syed Nazul Islam, the official next to Mujib in the powerful Awami League political party.

Mujib is the most popular political figure in the country of 75 million and is regarded as the father of Bangladesh—the new name for East Pakistan.

Many observers said only under Mujib's leadership would the new country be able to survive.

"I have no animus against the people of West Pakistan. I wish them well. I wish them happiness. Let them be free in their own country and let us be free in our country," Mujib said in Bengali.

Mujib also told the non-Bengali Moslems who have feared reprisals by the Bengalis they would not be harmed "but declare that you have become Bengalis."

At the same time, Mujib warned those who collaborated with the West Pakistanis as "agents of the oppressor" would be tried by a commission of world jurists.

Thousands of Bengalis were at the airport when Mujib's plane landed. As soon as he stepped out on the gangplank they chanted "Sheikh Mujib Zindabad" (Long Live Sheikh Mujib).

The streets were crossed with arches of flowers and spectators tossed petals at him all along the route.

Mujib left New Delhi earlier in the day after telling thousands of cheering Indians he would always be grateful to them for helping his country win its freedom.

Humphrey's Hat in the Ring

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Hubert H. Humphrey declared his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination today, pledging to make the "failures of the Nixon administration" the subject of his campaign.

He said an end to the Vietnam War was the most urgent need and he repeated a pledge he made as his party's unsuccessful 1968 standard bearer—promising a cease-fire, an end to the bombing and an immediate troop withdrawal if elected.

The 60-year-old Minnesota senator chose a meeting of local advertising men to make his announcement, instead of a paid national television spot as did some of his Democratic opponents —notably Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and Henry M. Jackson.

In becoming the eighth officially announced candidate for the Democratic nomination, Humphrey said the nation's 200th anniversary is nearing and the man who is president in 1976 "has the obligation and the opportunity to revive that feeling of common purpose which once inspired this nation —that mutual respect among generations, among the races and the groups in this country."

"History will note the failures of the Nixon administration and they will be the subject of this campaign. Regrettably we cannot escape their consequences. What we do now, however, can help overcome them," he said in the seven-page statement announcing his candidacy.

Of the war, Humphrey said: "It is taking Mr. Nixon longer to withdraw out troops than it took us to defeat Hitler. Had I been elected, we would now be out of that war. I repeat that pledge."

After the war, he listed the other issues as putting people back to work, creating a respect for law and justice to fight crime, attacking drug abuse, cleaning up the cities, raising farm income, fighting water pollution and giving every American family proper housing, food, health and education.

Garraghan Replies to Faculty

STONE RIDGE — A spokesman for the Board of Trustees of Ulster County Community College responded today to charges made by the college's Faculty Association that the denial of a sabbatical leave for Professor Harry Matzen represented an "irresponsible interplay of personalities."

Raymond W. Garraghan, chairman of the Board of Trustees, said today that Matzen's request for a sabbatical leave was not allowed by the board at its Jan. 6 meeting because Matzen did not give the board the six months notice it requires. Garraghan said the college would have been unable to find a replacement for Matzen had it granted the leave.

It was reported by a college official that Matzen submitted his request for a sabbatical on Dec. 16, 1971, asking for a leave to study at the Sorbonne in Paris in February through May of this year.

The board's action prompted an immediate response from the Faculty Association, whose president, Theodore Dietz, said, "This action is certain to undermine the present relationship between the faculty and the Board of Trustees.

"We feel that this regrettable action comes at a particularly unfortunate time," continued Dietz, "as we had every reason to believe that a climate for productive labor relations had been established between the faculty and the Ulster County Legislature."

Dietz added that the board's decision "seriously impairs the credibility of responsible county negotiators in the minds of all faculty and staff at UCCC.

Two other college professors have been granted sabbatical leave: Frederick Misler and Dr. John Park. A third sabbatical is provided for by the Ulster County Legislature. Matzen's application for a sabbatical had been reviewed by the faculty's Sabbatical Leave Committee and, according to Allan Duane, vice president of the Faculty Association, was approved by Robert Markes, Dean of Faculty, College President George B. Erbstein and was "favorably endorsed by the legal counsel for the Board of Trustees."

Paltz Pool Vote Slated Tuesday

NEW PALTZ — New Paltz residents will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a $240,000 bond issue for the proposed Erman Park Pool. The voting will be held in the town hall from noon to 9 p.m.

The land for the pool site is a 25 acre tract obtained from New Paltz developer Jack Erman under the provisions of the Town of New Paltz subdivision regulations. The site is located on Sunset Ridge near the Duzine School. The project received a $235,950 grant on a matching funds basis from the U.S. Department of the Interior. Tuesday's vote is on the funds necessary to match the grant.

Proponents of the pool argue the Town of New Paltz will be paying less than half the cost of the pool under the present setup. that it is a facility which can handle wimmers of all ages and physical conditions, New Paltz needs a pool badly, and the site can be developed with additional recreation facilities in the future.

Opponents of the pool claim the pool is poorly designed, is too expensive, and should have facilites on the site for something other than swimming.

Terrorists Damage Three B52s in Sapper Raid

BANGKOK (UPI) —Communist terrorists set off explosions in a pre-dawn sapper raid at U-Tapao Air Base early today, damaging three of the multi-million dollar B52 stratofortresses the United States uses to fight the Indochina War.

It was believed to be the first time any of the eight-engine B52s have been damaged in hostile action.

One of the sappers was killed by a U.S. Air Force sentry, but no injuries were reported to U.S. or Thai personnel.

Gen. Prapass Charusathiara, commander of the Royal Thai army and deputy chairman of Thailand's ruling National Executive council, said there was no doubt the "two or three" men who staged the raid were Communist terrorists.

Asked to comment on the worsening Communist insurgency in Thailand, Prapass said, "we can still control the situation."

Thai government spokesmen said the sappers set off "three small explosions" which caused "minor damage" to an engine on one of the bombers and dented engine cowlings on two other B52s.

It was learned that one of the sappers hurled a satchel charge directly into the engine that was damaged the worst.

Two of the bombers were considered still operational but U.S. sources said an engine on one of the planes would have to be replaced before it flies again.

A spokesman for the Thai government, which is responsible for the security of the base, 80 miles south of Bangkok, said an intruder was spotted near the planes parked in revetments at 2:30 a.m., about the same time as the first explosion.

An hour later, one of the sappers was challenged by a sentry. The sapper fired at the sentry and the sentry fired back, killing the sapper at a wire fence which surrounds the base. The sapper was killed near a bomb storage area. An unused satchel charge and a .38 caliber pistol was found on the body.

Other unexploded satchel charges and grenades were found in the vicinity of the planes.

U-Tapao is a forward operating base for stratofortresses and KC135 stratotankers of the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

The B52s are used daily in missions throughout the Indochina War Theater. Flying operations of these aircraft are controlled by the 307th Strategic Wing.

U-Tapao is a Thai base built and manned by the United States for use in the Indochina war. The U.S. Defense Department chose U-Tapao as a staging base for B52s and the first missions were flown from here by the bombers in 1967.

American Patrol Ambushed, One GI Killed

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong ambushed an American patrol 24 miles from Saigon today, killing one GI and wounding two others.

The Americans with a unit of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, were following two Communist guerrillas down a jungle trail when they walked into an ambush, U.S. sources said. They were patrolling about 23 miles northeast of Saigon near Tan Uyen along the Saigon River corridor, a Communist infiltration route into Saigon.

In other action an American fighter-bomber struck into North Vietnam Sunday in the third "protective reaction" strike of the year, and in Thailand Communist guerrillas struck the big B52 strategic bomber base at U-Tapao, inflicting the first battle damage on three of the giant eight-engine jets. U.S. spokesmen in Saigon said the sapper raid before dawn today did not hamper bombing operations.

An American F105 jet was flying cover for a flight of the B52s hammering Communist supply routes near the Barthelmy Pass between Laos and North Vietnam when a Communist missile radar nine miles inside North Vietnam near the 19th parallel fixed its sights on the B52s. The F105 heeled over and fired a radar-homing Shrike rocket at it to force the missilemen to shut their electronics off.

There was no damage to any of the U.S. planes involved, spokesmen said, but it was not known if the Shrike hit its target or not.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said an attack on a hamlet administrative office just six miles west of Saigon early today left seven militiamen wounded with unknown enemy casualties.

Government soldiers also fought a sharp battle about sundown Sunday 30 miles north of the capital near Ben Cat district town. That clash, also in the Saigon River corridor, left two South Vietnamese dead and 13 wounded. Communist casualties were given as 10 dead.

In Laos, North Vietnamese made their first attack on the secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) base at Long Cheng, 85 miles north of Vientiane but were driven off before they could set their dynamite bombs.

A spokesman said 12 Communists were killed.

In Qui Nhon, South Vietnam's fourth largest city, at least 12 persons were killed and 177 wounded when a hand grenade filled with tiny pellets was tossed into a bonfire at a youth rally.

Longshoremen, Pay Board Disagree

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board may not find it as easy to reject a 15-per cent guideline-shattering pay raise for strike-prone longshoremen as it did to veto a 12-per-cent raise for recession-plagued aerospace workers, board sources say.

"The longshoremen will shut down again, that's all," one informant said. "The board is playing these games with the weak and the small."

Last week United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock complained that the public and business members of the board were picking on aerospace workers because their industry is depressed and they are unlikely to strike.

The board took what at first appeared to be a tough stand, rejecting a 12-per-cent first-year raise for 100,000 workers at five aerospace firms. But it then indicated it is ready to approve the full raise if part of it is deferred until the second year of the agreement. Both years would exceed the board's 5.5-per-cent guideline.

Nevertheless, it was the first contract the board had refused to accept. It previously had approved a 15-per-cent raise for coal miners, who had struck to get it, and the start of a 47-per-cent raise for rail signalmen, who had struck twice.

No sooner had the board disposed of the aerospace matter, which took three days of debate and kept the board from deciding any other matters, than the dock settlement popped up.

The AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association tentatively agreed to a three-year pact calling for a 32.6-per-cent raise for 45,000 dock workers from Maine to Virginia. It presumably would serve as a pattern for ILA men in all East and Gulf Coast ports. West Coast dock workers, represented by another union, already have rejected a settlement containing an even bigger first-year raise.

The ILA settlement calls for a 15.2-per-cent increase in the first year, which is all the Pay Board is likely to consider if it follows its habit of clearing contracts year by year. The first year raise amounts to 70 cents in the present hourly wage of $4.60.

In developments over the weekend:

—The Cost of Living Council announced it had exempted the U.S. Postal Service from price controls, clearing the way for a 23.9-per-cent increase in third-class mail rates Jan. 24.

—Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, returning to Washington with Nixon Saturday night from California, predicted the Dow-Jones index of industrial stock prices will break 1,000 this year. It closed Friday at 908.

Busy Organizational Meeting

County Takes Second Look at Budget Controls

BY LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

A call for continuation of budget controls established in 1971 by the Ulster County Legislature was proposed recently at the organizational meeting of the County Board. County Board.

The measure failed to get off the ground however, with Brian White (R-Dist. 9) amending the proposal and requesting that the subject be referred to the Finance Committee for study.

There was unanimous approval to amend the resolution which had been offered by Glenn Debrosky (R-Dist. 7) who said he felt that the decrease in New York State's revenue sharing "is still a cause of great concern to the Ulster County Legislature."

Another measure, sponsored by the Chairman of the Legislature Peter J. Savago (R-Dist. 8), naming James R. Murphy acting welfare commissioner, also received unanimous approval although Legislator Clarence Raichle (R-City) said he wished that Miss Rose Marie Feeney of Kingston had been given a little more consideration for the post "although he held no ill feeling toward Murphy."

Minority Leader Dr. Gerald P. Gorman questioned whether the appointment of an acting commissioner to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Joseph Fitzsimmons, was legal and he was told by the County Attorney Abram Molyneaux that it had the approval of the state.

Savago told the Legislators that there are 14 applications for the post of permanent commissioner and that a selection would be made in less than three months.

In making the appointment of a new county superintendent of highways, the board voted for Jose Camallonga Jr. of Poughkeepsie with only one member, Lewis Hall (R-Dist. 2) abstaining. He gave no reason.

Another appointment, that of Kingston native Michael K Wood of Woodbourne to the post of administrative director for the Ulster County Drug Commission was proposed by Legislator Charles Scala (R-Dist. 1), Scala pointed out that about 100 persons were presently being treated in the county's methadone program.

Wood, whose record is said to be impressive, recently served as a narcotic rehabilitation counselor trainee with the State Narcotics Addiction Control Commission.

Asked this week why two non-residents had been selected for county posts, Savago replied that they had been chosen because they were "the best qualified" among candidates for the positions.

Molyneaux of Woodstock, was redesignated county attorney on the recommendation of the new Majority Leader Clifford Snyder (R-Dist. 1). Special Kingston City Judge George Beck was nominated by the Democrats.

Edward W. Snyder of Kingston was redesignated clerk of the board and budget officer and Joseph Gentile was renamed auditor and purchasing agent. The Democrats nominated ex-Legislator Orrie R. Riehl for the latter post.

Dr. Sigmund Brock, who is on the staff of Benedictine Hospital, was named jail physician.

Ninth District Republican Legislator Eugene Corey served as temporary chairman and Savago was relected chairman over William Edelmuth (D-City) in a strictly party line 23-10 vote. George Barthel (D-Dist. 10) was the Democratic nominee for temporary chairman.

Named as representatives to the Mid-Hudson Inter-County Council were Savago, Majority Leader Snyder and Dr. Gorman.

Appointments were also made to the Mental Health Board with the naming of Dr. Elbert MacFadden, Dr. Edward Shea and Richard W. Lent, for three year terms.

Three members of the Legislature were added to the list of those serving the Fire Advsory Board including Lester C. Elmendorf (R-Dist. 2), Lewis C. Hall (R-Dist. 2) and Eugene K. Noe (R-Dist. 9).

An appropriation of $36,756 was made to the Ulster County Soil and Water Conservation District and an appropriation of $1,000 was approved for the County Historical Society for the maintenance of Bevier House in the Town of Marbletown, society headquarters.

A resolution offered by Louis H. Bevier (R-Dist. 8) authorized the distribution of $26,027.96 to the towns of the county and the City of Kingston, designated as surplus dog license money.

During opening ceremonies, the oath of office was administered by Supreme Court Justice John L. Larkin.

Adjournment was in memory of the following: Deputy Sheriff Marshall Canosa of Shadaken, former Hardenburgh Supervisor Reginald Todd, Edmund U. Burhans of Saugerties and William Leehive of Kingston.

Police Investigating Upstate Phone Brawl

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Police were still trying to unravel today a brawl between men identified as striking Communications Workers of America union members and supervisory personnel brought in from the Boston, Mass., area by the New York Telephone Co.

The incident occurred Friday night shortly after the approximately 40 Massachusetts telephone men arrived at the Albany County airport and met some 90 persons outside the terminal who allegedly were picketing on behalf of the CWA, which has been on strike in New York State for six months.

A telephone company spokesman said the pickets were members of the CWA and that they assaulted the Boston area men. Two supervisory personnel were treated for injuries sustained in the ensuing fight. They returned to Boston but the remainder of the group remained in the Albany area to work on installation jobs over the weekend.

There have been no arrests.

Robert I. St. John, general manager of the company's eastern area, said the company was cooperating with police in investigating "the shocking action by a group of striking CWA members. This violence marked a low point in their six month strike."

Two incidents of vandalism were reported over the weekend in the mid-Hudson area. A telephone company spokesman in Poughkeepsie said that cables had been cut at Mountainville and at a housing project in Newburgh.

The cable cut at Mountainville, near Cornwall in Orange County, put the volunteer fire company out of service, and telephone company officiale sent a mobile two-way radio unit to the fire house for standby duty until the cable was repaired.

In the Kingston area no further vandalism has been reported since three cable cuts caused an estimated $3,000 damage and put about 2,500 customers out of service in the Tillson area last week.

State Police are investigating the incident and have asked anyone with information concerning damage to telephone company equipment to contact the nearest State Police office.

Twenty-three New York State CWA locals have been striking since July. Their membership rejected Bell Telephone Co. terms accepted by the national union's members in other states on the grounds that costs and other factors required better terms for New York than other states.

About 38,500 installers, repairmen, switchmen and linemen have been striking.

J. Curtis Counts, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, has been meeting with both sides in an effort to resolve the strike.

'Value-Added' Tax

Were 1972 not a national election year, much more might be heard in Washington about the value-added tax. There is some speculation President Nixon may introduce the subject anyway.

A value-added tax is a sales tax, but it is disguised somewhat from the consumer's view because it is applied at each step of the manufacturing process. It is a form of taxation widely used in Europe, and that is one of the strong arguments pushing it into the limelight in the United States.

By gimmicking the tax a bit, European countries rebate the taxes paid on their exports but collect it on imports. With the U.S. trade picture what it is, such a scheme is a strong inducement.

But there is another inducement with even stronger domestic appeal. Property taxes, which go largely to finance the public schools, have risen to astronomical proportions in many parts of the nation. Property owners are howling loudly.

In addition, court decisions across the land have been knocking down the property tax as the prime source of school funds, on grounds it provides disproportionate financing in different districts. What these court decisions have said, in a few states at least, is that some other method must be found to finance education.

Offering the value-added tax as a partial replacement for property taxes, then, could be a trade which would find many taxpayers receptive. As the 1972 political plan unfolds it seems likely more will be heard of this plan.

Black Population Trends

The last decade saw New York State raise its black population to the largest in the nation. At 2,166,933, New York led all the states of the old Confederacy a breakdown of the 1970 Census figures shows. Texas, the leading black state in the South, was 700,000 behind New York. The next four in order were Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana and Florida.

Proportionately, however, blacks accounted for 12 per cent of New York State's population, whereas the percentages in a number of Southern states were much higher. For example, Mississippi has 37 per cent black population, Louisiana and South Carolina 30 per cent each, Alabama and Georgia about 25 per cent each, and North Carolina almost 23 per cent. In Texas, blacks account for 13 per cent.

New York had an inmigration of blacks of 396,000; with California second, with 272,000 net. Among the 10 most populous states, New York had a net white outmigration of 638,000 or 4.2 per cent; and Pennsylvania 423,000, or 4 per cent. Only three other states among the biggest 10 had a net outward migration of whites. They were Illinois, 2.4 per cent; Ohio, 2.1 per cent; Michigan, 1.8 per cent. All but Texas and Florida among the top 10 had a net inmigration of blacks.

New York's outmigration of whites went largely to its two neighboring states, New Jersey and Connecticut. In New Jersey, there was a net inmigration of 336,000 whites and 120,000 blacks. In Connecticut, the net inmigrationss were 168,000 whites, 38,000 blacks.

The most drastic change in racial patterns thus occurred in the largest states where opportunity for factory work attracted the able-bodied, and high weekly welfare payments, no longer dependent on length of residence, helped them over the time they looked for employment. The face of America changed rapidly in the decade, spreading the races across the land.

$9.5 BILLION PAPER GOLD—The International Monetary Fund's last issue of $3 billion in "paper gold"—special drawing rights for the 100 countries that belong to the fund—brings the total of paper gold to almost $9.5 billion. That is still less than the United States real gold reserve of almost $12 billion.

THE YOUNGEST JUSTICES—William H. Rehnquist takes his seat on the Supreme Court of the United States at age 47, is far from the youngest who have served on the high bench. William Johnson, who took his seat in 1804, and Joseph Story, in 1812, were the youngest at 32 each.

Danger Lurked in Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON

The Gulf of Tonkin incident on August 4, 1964, led to our deep involvement in the Vietnam War. The American public was told that North Vietnamese torpedo boats had staged an unprovoked attack upon a U.S. destroyer, although later evidence indicated that the attack was actually provoked.

The risk of a similar naval incident in the Bay of Bengal caused grave apprehensions inside the State Department as a U.S. task force steamed toward a Soviet task force at the height of the Indian-Pakistani fighting.

On December 7, a top secret warning was flashed to Washington that "three Soviet naval ships, a seagoing minesweeper and a tanker have begun to move northeastward into the Bay of Bengal. The units entered the Indian Ocean from the Malacca Strait on 3 December and were located approximately 500 nautical miles east of Ceylon on 7 December."

Urgent huddles in the White House led to a decision on December 10 to assemble in Malacca Strait a U.S. task force, spearheaded by the aircraft carrier Enterprise, the Navy's most powerful ship. The primary purpose was to make a "show of force" and to divert Indian planes and ships from Pakistan.

As the task force moved into position, Admiral John McCain, our Pacific commander, inquired on December 11 about "the feasibility of . . . aerial surveillance of Soviet task group located approximately 180 NM (nautical miles) southwest of Ceylon."

Air Surveillance

Authorization was flashed back the same day "in the event Task Force 74 is directed to transmit the Strait of Malacca. At that time, appropriate . . . screening-surveillance flights are authorized."

As the American warships moved through the strait and headed into the Bay of Bengal, even more ominous reports reached Washington from the Defense Intelligence Agency.

"Recent indicators have been received which suggest the PRC (Peoples Republic of China) may be planning actions regarding the Indo-Pakistan conflict," a top secret message reported tersely. "According to a reliable clandestine source, (Pakistan's) President Yahya Khan claimed . . . today that the Chinese Ambassador in Islamabad had assured him that within 72 hours the Chinese Army will move towards the border.

"President Yahya's claim cannot be confirmed. However, recent Peking propaganda statements have become more critical of India's involvement in East Pakistan."

From Kadmandu in the Himalayas, meanwhile, came word that both the Soviet and Indian military attaches had asked Col. Melvin Holst, the American attache, what he knew about Chinese troop movements and U.S. fleet movements.

"USSR Attache Loginov," said the secret dispatch, "called upon PRC military attache Chao Kunag Chih in Katmandu advising Chao that PRC should not get too serious about intervention, because USSR would react, had missiles, etc."

Holst concluded, the dispatch added, that "both the USSR and India Embassies have a growing concern that PRC might intervene."

Simultaneously, the Central Intelligence Agency rushed out a top secret report that "the Chinese have been passing weather data for locations in Tibet and along the Sino-Indian border since 8 December. The continued passing of weather data for these locations is considered unusual and may indicate some form of alert posture."

Soviet Threat

And from New Delhi, the CIA reported: "According to a reliable clandestine source, Prime Minister Gandhi told a leader of her Congress Party that she had some indications that the Chinese intend to intervene along India's northern border . . . Mrs. Gandhi said that the Chinese action might be in the Ladakh area."

Russia's Ambassador to India, Nikolai M. Pegov, however, promised on December 13 that the Soviets "would open a diversionary action" against the Chinese and "will not allow the Seventh Fleet to intervene."

Here are the highlights of this ominous Soviet pledge, which the CIA claimed to have picked up from a "reliable source."

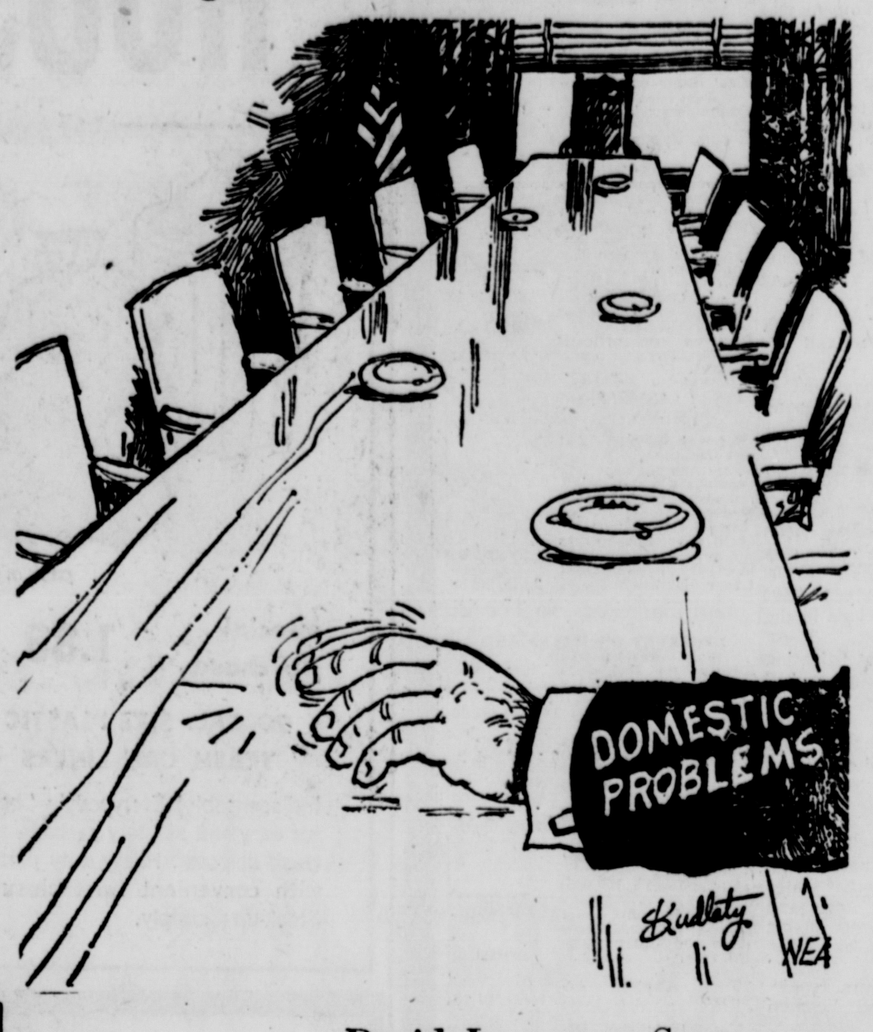

"Pegov stated that Pakistan is trying to draw both the United States and China into the present conflict. The Soviet Union, however, does not believe that either country will intervene.

"According to Pegov, the movement of the U.S. Seventh Fleet is an effort by the U.S. to bully India, to discourage it from striking against West Pakistan, and at the same time to boost the morale of the Pakistani forces. Pegov noted that a Soviet fleet is now in the Indian Ocean and that the Soviet Union will not allow the Seventh Fleet to intervene.

"If China should decide to intervene in Ladakh, said Pegov, the Soviet Union would open a diversionary action in Sinkiang. Pegov also commented that after Dacca is liberated and the Bangladesh government is installed, both the U.S. and China will be unable to act and will change their current attitude toward the crisis."

This is how the big powers danced precariously on the edge of the brink just before Christmas as people sang about peace on earth and good will toward men.

Waiting for Mr. Nixon's Next Summit

David Lawrence Says

The Nixon Record

WASHINGTON — There are all kinds of methods of communication, but how does a President of the United States communicate to the people a comprehensive review of his third year in office?

Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the executive department, has issued a 34-page summary, single spaced, covering the principal fields in which the administration claims accomplishments were made during the year for the benefit of the people. No newspaper, of course, had the space to publish the document in full and probably only a few thousand copies were distributed. The review covers not only what was done in 1971 but many of the things which were started in 1969 and 1970.

The items are divided as follows: leadship for prosperity; leadership for law, justice and opportunity; leadership for youth and aging; leadership for tomorrow's needs; leadership for agriculture and the environment; leadership for health and drug abuse control; and leadership for peace.

Considerable space is given to the impact of the ending of the Vietnam War on the economy and the effect on returning veterans who have been seeking jobs while business is depressed. One bill to which attention was called is the Emergency Employment Act of 1971, providing $1 billion for some 125,000 new federally supported jobs in such fields as health, education, law enforcement, sanitation and public works, with job priority given to veterans.

It is noted that the President put various measures into effect to improve the employment picture, including "the stimulation of low and moderate-income housing, increasing east-west trade relations, negotiating a textile understanding with Japan, and expanding the government's help to small business."

The rate of new private-housing starts in November 1971 was 2.3 million units, which was 37 per cent higher than in November 1970. It is predicted that 1971 as a whole will show an annual rate of more than 2 million. The report says:

"This rate is unsurpassed in American history, and reveals the fundamental strength of our economy."

The volume of loans by the Small Business Administration in 1971 amounted to approximately $1.5 billion, which is double the figure of 1970. The report points out, too, that despite the reduction in government purchases in fiscal 1971, government contracts to small businesses remained steady in 1971, reaching 11.5 billion, or 28 per cent of the total of all contracts to business.

After discussing the 10 per cent surcharge and the wage and price freeze and the new tax measures, it is stated that the new economic policy is giving "encouragement for the future." Particular emphasis is placed upon the monetary agreements recently reached, which are expected to increase American trade.

The report covers a variety of subjects, and one reference is to the high-level appointments of blacks in government in 1971, including the first black Assistant Secretary of Defense as well as the first black on the U.S. Military Court of Appeals. The review says:

"More black American are serving as ambassadors now then ever before. There are more black generals than ever, and President Nixon recently named the first black admiral in the nation's history. President Nixon has also appointed 11 black federal judges."

The review discusses aid to minority businesses and minority-owned banks and also assistance to Spanish-speaking Americans.

One section is devoted to the aid that is to be given to children in non public schools. It points out that such students are eligible for benefits under a total of 76 federal programs, 43 of them directly affecting pupils in grades 1 to 12.

With reference to the Peace Corps, it is stated that 8,500 peace corpsmen were involved in 1971 in more than 540 development projects in 56 countries, utilizing 312 skills and communicating in 187 languages and dialects.

Perhaps the most notable statement in the review is the following:

"In 1968 42 cents of every federal dollar went to defense while only 32 cents went to human resources. Today that ratio is reversed, with 32 cents going to defense and 42 cents to human resources. Vietnam-related spending has been reduced to less than one third the 1968 high."

Many more details of the government's operations are given in the Nixon administration's review. But the big question is how many people will ever see copies of the full text of this lengthy document and get a chance to read it. Yet it is really a history of the first three years of the administration.

BERRY'S WORLD

"That's a good question. But, frankly, I don't know if he's a Democratic or Republican fat cat!"

The Failures Created by Success

Success is a fragile ladder. The climb upward is arduous and steep. One weak rung and the climber falls to the bottom, busted in body and wallet. America is addicted to the successful man as a hero. A few learn to live with power and adulation — men such as Henry Ford III, Juan Trippe, and David Sarnoff come to mind -- but fame kills a hundred for everyone who survives.

I knew a gangster who made the grade. His name was Owney Madden and he came up out of the poverty of Hell's Kitchen in New York to hijack liquor trucks. He earned huge sums of money and sent out word that he was retiring to Hot Springs, Ark. He was one of the few baddies who died in bed of natural causes.

Americans equate money with success. It's a poor measuring rod. Martin Luther King, Jr., found himself propelled to success by accident — a bus strike in Montgomery, Ala. The little man became a big man. He knew that his new size made him a better target, but he couldn't stop. His father begged him to come back to Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, but he couldn't turn back. One rifle shot slammed him eight feet across a motel balcony and he became a dead martyr.

Suppose he had listened to Daddy? King could not live with success, and he could not abide failure Edsel Ford is another case in point. He was a good man, but being good isn't good enough. Old Henry Ford left Edsel a tremendous automobile empire, and the son died having a lousy car named after him.

I rise to defend mediocrity. Joe Namath got $400,000 for signing with the Jets, and what did it do for him? His knees are tight; his tongue is loose; he opened a bistro and was ordered to get rid of it — sell out. Success killed Audie Murphy, the most decorated man in World War II. He became an actor, and he couldn't act. He was truly just another G.I. Joe with insufficient brains to be afraid.

We have two Secretaries of State who will go down in history — and I mean down. Edward B. Stettinius, Jr., was a handsome, white-haired man who went to Yalta with his chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt, there to find out he had no bargaining power at all because the President was his own Secretary of State. In 1967, Dean Rusk learned the same lesson under Lyndon Johnson.

Take the whole Kennedy family and look for success. Young Joe died on a bombing mission. John became President and died in Dallas. Robert was a contentious Attorney General and died in Los Angeles. Success? One has to look to Rose Kennedy, the mother, for that. She learned to live with it without forgetting her humble origins. Only Rose . . .

Howard Hughes is a billionaire. Few men ever see him; fewer still know him; he trusts no one. He strives for more billions, but what can he do with them? Sit up all night and count? Has anyone seen him enjoy a good laugh? He can keep his money and his success as far as I'm concerned.

There is an unfunny joke going the rounds which says that Jackie Kennedy made a millionaire of Aristotle Onassis. He was a billionaire when he met her. How does he measure success? By numbers of Greek ships and his conquest of a President's widow? If so, he's a lonely man indeed.

F. Scott Fitzgerald was a fine writer who could not countenance success. He turned to the dreams of booze. So did William Faulkner. Norman Mailer, gifted man, palms off third-rate books because he wants to direct fifth-rate motion pictures. Does anyone remember Richard Bennett?

I thought not. He was a fine Shakespearean actor. He was the Richard Burton of his time. None of his performances achieved the success he attained one night when he arose at a table in Texas Guinan's night club and held a hand up for silence as he read from the Old Testament.

Mr. Bennett read for 20 minutes. At first, the table hoppers giggled. Then they listened. Then they felt the terrible presence of God in a Broadway night club. When Mr. Bennett finished, he collapsed in a drunken stupor and the Bible fell from his hands.

His greatest performance fell to ashes. On the cover of the Bible was the legend: "Property of the Great Northern Hotel." Mr. Bennett had stolen it. After that, he was just another actor.

Success is like a 40-pound cowbell around the neck. It is nice to have, but it heralds the man whereever he goes, and he must bow his head with its weight. Some can do it. Others can't. I would much prefer to be the foreman in a factory than to own it.

You listening, Teddy? . . .

Legislators Get Their Initial Look At Austerity Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York legislators waited today for their first close look at the austerity budget Gov. Rockefeller says he'll propose to finance state operations during the 1972-73 fiscal year.

Primarily, the lawmakers want to get an idea of how bitter the debate will be over whether to cut some state services to keep spending within income.

The legislators face problems from two angles: Budget pressures caused by the severe drop in tax revenues, and the need to build a good record to point to during this fall's elections.

With everybody promising to hold the line on spending, it's a good bet that the record will be built on policy legislation which involves little new cost.

The ecology and consumer bandwagons are considered good vehicles for this, with such proposals as no-fault auto insurance, licensing of television repairmen and auto mechanics and limiting the use of disposable containers already in the works.

With the $407 million in new taxes enacted during last week's special session, part of the legislature's work is done. That's the revenue side of the budget. Rockefeller asked for the new taxes, saying he needed to bridge a $1.5 billion budget gap.

But the lawmakers can't agree whether this will speed up or slow down the regular session.

There's a feeling that it should speed things up because there's only a certain amount of money available, and they will have to decide how it's to be spent.

But the same factor leads some to predict extended debate over how to spend the money that is available. In other words, everybody may want to have a say before the decision is final.

Because the special session kept everybody's mind on new taxes until the night before the regular session was to begin, leaders decided to get the routine of opening the session out of the way Wednesday, then recess until today.

Rockefeller delayed his State of the State message, which traditionally is delivered on the opening day. He must deliver his budget message before Jan. 18.

During negotiations on the revenue package, Democrats won from Rockefeller a pledge that he wouldn't propose any cuts in spending for education, mental hygiene and drug abuse programs and in revenue sharing formulas.

But Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea, R-Montauk, refused to be a party to such promises, the price Minority Leaders Stanley Steingut in the Assembly and Joseph Zaretzki in the Senate demanded for Democrats' votes.

Duryea predicted that some cuts would have to be made in Rockefeller's budget requests to keep from aggravating the revenue problems.

On other issues, the legislature is expected to consider attempts to repeal the new abortion law, proposals to raise state aid to parochial schools and bills to require unit pricing of merchandise.

Legislative reapportionment was taken care of in the first of the two recent special sessions, but the congressional districts must be redrawn.

Lots of the bills will sound familiar because legislation introduced last year which didn't get anywhere still is alive.

Safer Cigarettes Recommended in Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recognizing that Americans continue to smoke despite the higher risk of cancer, heart attacks and lung diseases, the U.S. surgeon general said today that new efforts must be encouraged to develop safer cigarettes.

And the health hazard may not be limited to smokers, the Public Health Service said in a 226-page report to Congress.

Nonsmokers in a smoke-filled room may be exposed to carbon monoxide levels exceeding some local air-pollution limits, the report said, and especially threatening to persons already suffering from chronic bronchopulmonary and coronary diseases.

"We must continue to encourage cessation as the only certain way to protect both the individual and society from the harmful effects of smoking," Surgeon General Jesse L. Steinfeld said.

"We must also, however, work towards reducing the dangers of smoking for those who have not quit by developing less-hazardous cigarettes and ways of smoking," he added.

The report, the fifth in a series since the first 1964 surgeon general's report linked cigarette smoking to disease and premature death, recommended that primary emphasis in developing a safer cigarette be aimed at reduction of carbon monoxide, nicotine and tar.

Sen. Frank Moss immediately announced that his Senate Commerce subcommittee will hold hearings Feb. 1, 3 and 10 to consider legislation setting tar and nicotine limits.

Health Secretary Elliot L. Richardson, in a letter accompanying the new smoking report, told Congress his department supports regulatory efforts by the Federal Trade Commission to require health warnings in cigarette advertising along with listings of each brand's tar and nicotine content. Printed health warnings now are required on cigarette packages.

"Should these efforts fail, however, we would return to our previous recommendations that this should be accompanied through legislative action," he said.

FBI Mum on $750,000 Recovery Of Hotel Pierre Gems in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Acting on a tip, FBI agents Sunday recovered from an undisclosed Detroit location an estimated $750,000 in gems stolen last week from the Hotel Pierre in New York.

No arrests were made in Detroit, but Neil J. Welch, special agent in charge of the local FBI office, said charges of interstate transportation of stolen property probably would be filed today against five men being held in New York.

The five were arrested Friday and Saturday in connection with the Hotel Pierre robbery, which authorities have estimated netted thieves $1 million to $5 million in jewelry.

Welch and other FBI agents would not disclose the nature of the tip they received nor the exact location in downtown Detroit where the stolen jewels were found.

An FBI spokesman described the recovered gems, displayed for reporters at a hastily-called news conference Sunday night, as "very expensive, socialite-type jewelry."

Among the items shown to newsmen were a 30-carat emerald pendant, a bracelet with 114 emeralds and 66 diamonds, a set of diamond earrings with 182 stones, a pair of ruby earrings and a large diamond brooch with several diamond clusters.

Welch said some of the 12 items recovered had been dismantled for remounting of the stones, but otherwise they were in excellent condition.

Prior to Sunday night's recovery, only $225,000 worth of loot had been found by police since the four well-dressed men invaded the hotel early Jan. 2, cleaned out 47 safe deposit boxes and fled in a limousine.

Welch would not speculate on how the loot got to Detroit but said it may have been brought here because, like all major urbans areas, the city has a market for stolen goods.

Among the five arrested in New York was Sorecho "Sam" Nalo, 40, a former Detroiter now living in The Bronx, who has a criminal record in Michigan.

Among Nalo's convictions was a 1961 arrest for a $20,000 armed robbery of a suburban Grosse Pointe Woods fur company.

Oswald Lone Killer Of JFK, Claims Expert

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first nongovernment medical expert to examine the X-rays and photographs of President John F. Kennedy after his assassination said Sunday he is convinced Lee Harvey Oswald alone fired the fatal shots.

Dr. John K. Lattimer of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons said his examination of the pathological evidence "eliminates any doubt completely" about the findings of the Warren Commission, which conducted the official investigation of the assassination.

The commission found that Kennedy was killed Nov. 22, 1963 in Dallas by two shots Oswald fired from the Texas Book Depository as the President's motorcade passed. The commission was headed by Earl Warren, then the chief justice of the United States.

"I had doubts about certain points of the commission report before I got to see the X-rays, but based on what I saw they have been dispelled," Lattimer told a news conference.

Lattimer's speciality is urology. But as an Army doctor during World War II he had extensive experience treating bullet wounds. Since then he has made a study of assassinations by gunshots and has lectured and written about the Kennedy assassination.

Lattimer was the first nongovernment expert permitted to see the 65 X-rays, color transparencies and black-and-white photographs taken at the Kennedy autopsy. They are in the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

He said the wound that destroyed most of the right side of Kennedy's brain was "horrible" and the pictures should never be made public. He discussed at length the other bullet that passed through Kennedy's neck. Sketches of the path of this bullet published by the commission showed its trajectory as nearly level.

Mrs. Nixon Welcomed From Trip to Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Giving his wife, a ceremonial, band-playing welcome home as "madame Ambassador," President Nixon said she did a better job in Africa as his personal representative than he would have done.

Hailed as a success by Nixon, the first lady's trip to Liberia, Ghana and the Ivory Coast led Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to predict an election-year future of further diplomacy for her.

"We hope that this may be the beginning of other and more-fruitful enterprises that you may undertake," Agnew said.

A big homecoming crowd of more than 1,000, including many school children, turned out on a rainy Sunday night in a jet-size hangar at nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

The Nixons' two daughters and sons-in-laws and the President's Cabinet family were there for the combined welcome-home for Mrs. Nixon and birthday greetings for the President, who was 59 Sunday.

Hand-lettered signs in the crowd carried such sentiments as "We love you," "Happy birthday, Mr. President" and "Young Republicans are proud . . . ."

Back from a 10,100-mile, nine-day trip, Mrs. Nixon's gleeming presidential jet plane taxied through the rain into the hangar. The President went up the ramp to escort his wife, carrying a bouquet of red roses, to a ceremonial dias.

Free Our Prisoners of War in '72

But in practice in no international war is there a general release of prisoners expected unless the war is ended or a cease-fire agreement achieved.

Vietnamization, increased bombing, residual troops can hardly be considered an end to the war by any reasonable person.

This is a war we have not won, cannot win, and, in good conscience, should not wish to win.

Write to your congressmen, senators, and President Nixon today. Respectfully request that they disengage fully and immediately from this war which is not in defense of our country. It is the only way to bring home our prisoners of war in '72.

Jones Is Guest of Honor at Open House

The Cardinal Inn at Port Ewen was the scene of an open house Sunday, Jan. 2 for Lou Jones, a former part time bartender at the Inn and member of the Cardinal Inn Social Club. Jones and his mother, Mrs. Irene Jones of 41 Adams Street, both former employes at Rotron, Inc. in Woodstock, left January 5 to take up residence in Miami, Fla.

Well known among bus trip buffs, in recent years Jones acted as an assistant to the late Mrs. Teresa L. Mayone of Glasco who had arranged numerous trips to Canada, Florida, the Bahamas, Pennsylvania, Atlantic City.

Jones and his mother were active members of St. Peter's Church in Kingston where he had sung in the choir and worked for various church and school clubs. Among the many who attended the farewell party were several priests, two of whom are members of the Collarmen, the Rev. Charles MacDonald and the Rev. Norman Bennett. The Rev. John Davy, formerly of St. Peter's and now at St. Charles Church in Gardiner, sent a message.

Numerous friends stopped at the Inn to extend best wishes and about 50 persons stayed for a smorgasbord supper. A purse was presented to him by Mrs. Rose Grim and Mrs. Babe Blass who served as hostesses at the party. Jones will work with Mrs. Dorothy Barber in planning a pilgrimage to Canada in August. The trip which had been arranged by the late Mrs. Mayone will be made in her memory.

Among those who participated in the event were Jennie Aiello, Jack Misasi, Frank Turk, Annie Anderson, Fannie DeCicco, Virginia Cave, Helen McGowen, Bessie Reilly, Margaret Reilly, Anne Murphy, Annette Murdock, Ethel Howard, Flo Madden.

Joe and Rosie Polcastro, Doris Petruski, Del Sapp, Chris Tucker, Betty and Jack Travis, Edna and Paul Rowe, Tillie Berardi, Benjamin Florists, Art Altheiser, Lillian Costa, Pearl Rowell, Alice and Peter Malloy, Mary Connelly, Rita Senor, Dorothy Janescu, Rose and Bob Grim, Babe and Joe Blass, Kay Couglin, Katis Lynch, Maxine Westbrook, Pat Hennessey.

Gloria Sottile, Dennis Meehan, Sharon and Dorothy Barber, Kay Lawrence; Rose Turk, daughter of Paul Haines who also left for Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson, Marge DeGrof; Tex Scherer, Lou Jones' uncle; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graney, Joan L. Woinoski, Robert Saehloff, Mrs. Filomena Mottsey, Anna and Frances Lucas; Helen and Charles Hemmler, proprietors of the Cardinal Inn.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We recently redecorated our living room. I wanted new drapes that would match the color of the new wallpaper.

After pondering the costs of new drapes, I had a marvelous idea — why not remove the pleater stiffening from the old drapes and make the new one myself?

By reusing this stiffening from the old drapes, the problem of measuring for the width of the material and the correct placement of the pleasts would be eliminated!

The money and the time saved, plus the wear and tear on the nerves, was a joy!

Mrs. E. M. Curtis

This could almost be a case of where the cure was worse than the ailment when it came to ripping out that stiff pleating.

You really had to work to save yourself some work!

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

I know I'm getting old because now when I shop I buy things for comfort and not for style!

Mrs. B. J. P.

Dear Heloise:

With four girls in the family wearing white socks almost the same size, we had quite a problem.

We were always getting each other's socks!

My mother has come up with an easy way of sorting out all these socks.

She gave each one of us a special mark. When the socks are new, each girl's mark is made on each sock in the same place with a waterproof nonsmear pen.

Now when the socks come out of the dryer, all we have to do is find two socks with the same marks and pair them together!

It's easier than pie — even my 5-year-old sister can do it!

Retail Prices 'Stable'

Prices paid by consumers for food purchased for home consumption in the New York-Northeastern New Jersey area remained stable between October and Novembr, according to Herbert Bienstock, Regional Director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Although lower prices were reported in November for meats, poultry, and fish as well as for eggs and some dairy products, these declines were offset by sharply higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables, up two per cent over the month.

Foods purchased for home consumption typically decline between October and November, but this year the sharp rise in fruit and vegetable prices more than offset a less-than-seasonal drop in the meats, poultry, and fish and "other foods at home" sectors.

How to Diplomatically Cut Gift List

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: This is a tough one: How do you suddenly take someone off your Christmas gift list? And let them know in advance, so they will take you off theirs?

We have many friends and relatives with whom we have been exchanging Christmas gifts for years. It started when our children were young. We used to give inexpensive toys, elaborately wrapped, so they would have something under their tree, and the kids would have the excitement of unwrapping them on Christmas morning.

The kids aren't kids anymore. We almost never see most of them. Many have moved out of town. Christmas shopping is not only a big bore, it has become costly. I am sure these people feel the same way about it, but we don't know how to break this vicious circle. So we keep buying the same people Christmas presents every year because we know they'll buy us something.

If you have a solution for this universal problem, Abby, you're a genius.

SICK OF CHRISTMAS

DEAR SICK: I'm no genius, but here's a suggestion: Around Thanksgiving, send them a note saying you are thankful for friends with whom you can be perfectly candid. Then tell them you are trimming your Christmas gift list, and do not plan to send their children (or them, if that's the case) a gift, so to please do likewise. I promise you, it will be the best Christmas gift you could give them.

DEAR ABBY: In the summer of 1944, I met and fell in love with a wonderful marine. I know he loved me too, but for reasons I won't go into we wouldn't marry then.

I tried hard to forget him, but I guess I never really did. I still have his letters, and when I read them and play all those tunes, "I Walk Alone," "I'll Be Seeing You," "Saturday Night Is the Loneliest Night in the Week," etc., I feel he is near.

I know he is still living on the northeast coast and I would love to see him again.

While trying to forget him, I married a guy I'd known all thru school, but it lasted only five years. I guess I didn't love him enough.

Abby, I am told I'm too nice looking to stay alone, but I think I'm one of those women who can only love once. I've never met a man who can measure up to my marine. Any suggestions?

SEMPER FIDELIS

DEAR SEMPER: Quietly investigate and find out if he's married or single. If he's single, maybe you can pick up where you let off. It's worth a try. Good luck.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Christian Women's Club Chairman Named Recently

It has been announced that Mrs. Earl F. Wheeler of Woodstock will serve as chairman of the Kingston-Ulster County Christian Women's Club. Mrs. Wheeler was appointed to the position by the National Representative.

The Ulster County Group is one of more than 800 clubs in the U.S. and Canada, affiliated with Christian Women's Club of America, an international organization with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

MRS. EARL F. WHEELER

(Reynolds photo)

The club is an inter-church, non-sectarian organization with no dues or membership and was established 32 years ago with more than 30 clubs in New York State. The Ulster County group was formed a year ago.

Each club meets monthly for luncheon meetings and is made up of homemakers in the local area. Special features are a part of the program, designed to inform ladies of latest fashions, arts and crafts, and other items of interest.

The best in music is provided and outstanding speakers present an inspirational message challenging women to seek the better things in life.

The international organization, soon after it was established, was challenged to take on a project. Ever since trained Christian leaders have been sent into rural areas where no churches are available to tell people of God's love.

The names of the local ladies appointed to serve on the Christian Women's Club executive committee were announced at the monthly luncheon. They include Mrs. Clifford Davis Jr., Lake Katrine, vice chairman; Mrs. Harford Shultis, Kingston, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Sweeney, Kingston, telephone chairman; Mrs. Charles Ludlow, Accord, recording and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Hopkins, Stone Ridge, music chairman; Mrs. Henry Stingel, Hurley, hostess chairman.

A BIG BLOCK—Milwaukee Buck Kareem Abdul Jabbar looked for someone to pass the ball to as he was guarded closely by Los Angeles Laker Wilt Chamberlain (13) during Sunday's Bucks-Lakers game in Milwaukee. Jabbar scored 39 points in the Bucks' 120-104 win over the Lakers stopping their record 33-game winning streak. (UPI PHOTO)

Pro Record Streak Ends at 33

Bucks Dunk LA, 120-104...

Jabbar Hits 39

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

It took a superb effort by the National Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player and the league champions to fnally end the Los Angeles Lakers' pro record winning streak at 33 games.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, taking advantage of rival seven-footer Wilt Chamberlain's foul troubles, erupted offensively in the second half to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to a 120-104 victory over the Lakers Sunday, ending a streak that had begun on Oct. 31.

Jabbar's 39 Points

Jabbar, who won the MVP award as Lew Alcindor last season, hit 11-of-15 shots from the floor in the second half and finished with 39 points and 20 rebounds.

Jabbar, who hit only 7-of-19 shots in the first half, went to work as Chamberlain picked up his fourth personal foul. He dominated action under the offensive backboard and hit consistently on short jump shots.

"I was missing the hook so I just sort of manufactured a little jump shot in the second half," said Jabbar. "It seemed to work out all right."

Blames Turnovers

Larry Costello, the Milwaukee coach, felt his club should have broken the Laker streak. "I'm glad we were the ones to end that streak," said Costello, who devised a defense to thwart Los Angeles' famed fast-break attack. "We should have been the ones to break it. Our defense won the game for us. We fell back fast and cut off their fast break."

Bill Sharman, the Laker coach, credited turnovers with his team's loss. "You can't have that many turnovers (24) and expect to win," said Sharman. "You might be able to beat some poor teams, but not the World Champs."

Jerry West, the Lakers' star guard who played in his first losing game this season, said, "We just didn't play well at all. You can't take anything away from the Bucks, though. They played aggressive ball and really did a job. Their defense was great. They kept our offense outside and we just couldn't penetrate. We really couldn't do anything and that's why it ended."

The three previous Los Angeles losses this season came when West was out of the line-up with an injured leg.

West's 20 Points

Lucius Allen hit 18 points and John Block added 17 for the Bucks while West led the Laker attack with 20 points. The game was close until the third quarter when the Lakers tied the score at 69-69 with 4:39 left and Milwaukee went on a 10-2 tear to push ahead.

In other NBA action Sunday, Chicago whipped Cincinnati 108-104, Golden State edged Houston 113-112, Baltimore downed Phoenix 109-103, Seattle beat Boston 125-119 and Detroit defeated Buffalo 101-96.

Chet Walker scored seven of his 33 points in overtime as Chicago beat the Royals, Cincinnati's 14th consecutive loss. Cincinnati led by as many as 20 points in the first half before the Bulls rallied to wn.

Cazzie's 3-point Play

Cazzie Russell scored 31 points, including a key three-point play with 51 seconds left, as Golden State beat the Rockets for its sixth straight victory. Nate Thurmond and Jeff Mullins each added 25 for the Warriors.

Jack Marin scored 28 points, including seven in a row during a third period rally, as the Bullets downed Phoenix for their sixth straight triumph.

Spencer Haywood's 33-point effort lifted the SuperSonics over Boston and Jimmy Walker hit 35, including six of his team's last nine points, in Detroit's victory over Buffalo. It was the Braves' 13th loss in their last 14 games.

UNHAPY HAIRSTON — Los Angeles Lakers' Happy Hairston lies stunned on the floor after Milwaukee Bucks' Kereem Abdul went up for a shot, landed on Hairston when he came down and then punched Hairston in the cheek. Both players were charged with personal fouls. The action came in the seocnd quarter of Sunday's Milwaukee victory that snapped the Laker's' 33-game winning streak. Laker Coach Bill Sharman (L) and trainer Frank O'Neill rush to aid Hairston. (UPI)

It Was 'Fantastic' For Larry Costello

By THE ASSOCIATED PRES

"It's fantastic," said a happy Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello after his fired-up Bucks had ended the longest winning streak in professional sports history, thrashing the Los Angeles Lakers 120-104.

"I'm just glad we were in a position to do it," added Costello after the Bucks had handed the Lakers their first National Basketball Association setback since Oct. 31 and stopped their 33-game victory skein Sunday.

Lakers' Coach Bill Sharman also used the word "fastastic," but in a different fashion.

"We played fanstastic for two and a half months," he said, "and it had to end. But I hope we're smart enough to learn by our mistakes so we can play better against them the next time."

"It was a great performance, and that's what it took to beat a team like Los Angeles," said Costello.

"I think we were flat and didn't play well," said Sharman, "but I give Milwaukee credit. They were very aggressive."

Both coaches agreed that defense was the deciding factor.

Another key point occurred early in the third period, when the Lakers' massive center, Wilt Chamberlain, picked up his fourth personal foul. After that, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the Bucks' big center, scored 23 of his game-high 39 points. Jabbar also finished with 20 rebounds, while Chamberlain, who never has fouled out of a high school college or pro game, had only 15 points and 12 rebounds.

"I'm ashamed we didn't play better," said an embarrassed Chamberlain.

LA Open Triple Tie

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Oh, I'll go out and chase it around and try not to hit too many people," was Dave Hill's laconic assessment of his game plan for today's 18-hole playoff for the title and the $25,000 first prize in the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

The slim, dark Hill, a sometimes bad boy who has had countless run-ins with golfdom's authorities, canned a dramatic 30-foot birdie putt on the final hole to tie George Archer and Tommy Aaron at the end of 72 holes Sunday and force the extra round.

All had 72-hole totals of 270, 14 under par on the 6,823-yard Rancho Park Golf Course. Hill, the last man to finish, and the 6-foot-6 Archer each had a five-under-par 66 on the sunny final day and Aaron, who sported a three-stroke lead going into the round, had a 69.

It was the fourth time in as many years that this tournament —the traditional opening event on the long, rich pro tour—had ended in a playoff. But it was the first time it will go to 18 holes on Monday. The others had been sudden death.

It was set up in that fashion because of television commitments, and neither Aaron nor Archer knew about it beforehand.

The playoff was scheduled to start at 2:10 pm. (EST) with national television (CBS-TV) scheduled from 5-6 p.m. All three playoff participants said they would have preferred a sudden death affair.

The winner will get $25,000 and the other two $11,575 each regardless of their score. Each will get another $5,000 from television. Archer has a 2-2 career playoff record, Aaron 1-2 and Hill 3-1.

It was a three-man race all the way with Chris Blocker finishing alone in fourth at 275, five strokes back. Bob Rosburg and Hale Irwin tied at 276.

Marlene Hagge Wins Burdine's

MIAMI (UPI) — Red-haired Marlene Hagge shot a steady one-under-par final round of 71 Sunday to win a four-stroke victory and $4,500 in the fourth annual Burdine's Invitational Golf Tournament.

The miniskirted Mrs. Hagge held off a final round charge by young Kathy Ahern to take the opening tournament on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour.

It was the first tournament win for Mrs. Hagge since 1969. She was five-under for the 54 holes on the par-72 red course at the Doral Country Club with scores of 68-72-71—211. She had 17 pars and one birdie on the 14th hole of the final round to beat par by a stroke.

"I was determined to keep my mind on my game, play steady and make the others catch me," Mrs. Hagge said.

She managed to exactly preserve the four-stroke lead she took into the final round, despite Miss Ahern's nifty final round 68.

Miss Ahern, with scores of 75-72-68—215, finished in a second-place tie with Sandra Palmer, who shot 73-71-71—215.

Mrs. Hagge, who plays out of the Desoto Country Club in Sarasota, Fla., said she felt the turning point in the match was her birdie on the par-five, 450-yard 14th hole.

CIVIL WAR — 1972 VERSION — After a fight that marred Marquette's 72-71 victory over South Carolina in Columbia, S. C., Sunday, the two chief combatants nursed their wounds and agreed it was the other guy's fault. A referee attempts to keep apart Carolina's Tom Riker (center-left) and Marquette's Bob Lackey (45). Larry McNeil (31) Denny Traynor (33 and Allie McGuire (12) look on. Results: one bruised eye and a sprained hand for Riker. (UPI)

Fighting Irishmen Meet And Revive the Civil War

By BILL MADDEN
UPI Sports Writer

It figured that when two "fighting Irishmen" named McGuire from the streets of New York brought their college basketball teams together fireworks would fly, and Sunday's Marquette-South Carolina game lived up to all its advance hooplah.

The second ranked unbeaten Marquette Warriors of Al McGuire escaped with a 72-71 win over the fourth ranked once beaten South Carolina Gamecocks of Frank McGuire but not before (1) two key players were ejected for fighting, (2) Marquette missed a pair of last second one-on-one situations and (3) South Carolina's star Kevin Joyce twice missed opportunities to win the game with a final bucket.

Both McGuires, while expounding on an excellent game by both teams, soft pedalled the fight which saw S.C.'s Tom Riker and Marquette's Bob Lackey ejected from the game early in the second half.

Marquette was in command throughout most of the game despite a partisan packed house at Carolina Coliseum, but with one minute remaining, Gamecock soph Ed Peterson, who hit seven of eight baskets in the game, cut the Warrior margin to 72-71 on a jumper. Marquette then missed two opportunities on the free throw line but Joyce missed a pair of jumpers for S.C. which could have won the game.

"When Peterson started hitting I said: 'Who the hell is this guy'?," Said Al McGuire. "We were very fortunate to win — you'll never see Kevin Joyce that cold again."

Frank McGuire, who now has seen his charges lose two heartbreakers by a point each time this season, was philosophical in defeat. "You win some and you lose some and it doesn't hurt as much when a good team beats you. Losing to Al today was like losing to a brother," the veteran Gamecock mentor said.

In Saturday's games, top-ranked UCLA continued on the unbeaten trail with an easy 93-68 win over Oregon. Third-ranked North Carolina trounced Furman 118-66 in tuning up for next weekend's key matchup with surprising unbeaten Virginia. The 18-ranked Cavaliers proved they were for real by beating N.C. State 84-73 at Raleigh.

Fifth-ranked Indiana dropped its second straight decision 52-51 to Minnesota, sixth-rated Louisville dumped Cincinnati 84-76, No. 7 Penn trounced Harvard 81-52, No. 9 Ohio State defeated Purdue 78-70, and tenth-ranked Maryland was ambushed 63-61 by Clemson.

Southern Cal began the road back after its embarrassing defeat to Penn in the Kodak Classic. The Trojans, matching strides with UCLA in the Pacific Eight, thumped Oregon State 85-75 for a weekend sweep of the Oregon schools.

Florida State, No. 12, routed East Tennessee State 106-63, but St. John's lost 86-83 to Syracuse. For the 13th-ranked Redmen, it was their second straight loss.

The remainder of the top 20 all were victorious Saturday. Villanova (15th tied) beat Canisius 69-65, Kentucky bested Mississippi 93-82, Southwestern Louisiana sneaked by Northeastern Louisiana 75-73, Missouri nipped Ohio U. 78-76 and Brigham Young toppled Arkansas Tech 88-67.

Greg Kohls' 33 Points Help Upset St. John's

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sky-scraping giants of St. John's didn't reckon with little Greg Kohls when they hosted the Syracuse Orangemen in the featured game of the upstate college basketball schedule Saturday night.

The 6-foot-1 Kohls poured in 33 points and sparked a late Orange rally as the visitors nipped the 17th-ranked and plummeting Redmen 86-83.

In other major weekend games, Niagara roared to its 10th straight victory, a 112-92 pounding of St. Peter's. St. Bonaventure topped Kent State 76-63. Canisius bowed to Villanova 69-65, Colgate humiliated Boston Universtiy 112-79 and Cornell was walloped by Brown 101-88.

Syracuse's triumph was their ninth against three losses. St. John's is now 8-4 and has lost its last three.

Marshall Wingate and Al Williams hit for 25 points apiece to lead once-beaten Niagara to its victory over St. Peter's in Bayonne, N. J. The Peacocks, now 11-7, were paced by Ted Martiniuk's 31 points.

After a seesawing first half in Kent, Ohio, Glenn Price and Carl Jackson ignited a second-half St. Bonaventure rally that ensured the Bonnies' sixth victory in eight starts. Price finished with 21 and Jackson 20.

Gary Stewart totalled 25 points for Canisius to lead all scorers, but a second-half Villanova rally, led by Hank Siemiontkowski and Tom Inglesby, gave the 14th-ranked Wildcats their victory at Buffalo Memorial Auditorium. The Griffins are now 7-4, Villanova 10-1.

Colgate, off to is best start in 16 years, relied on a versatile attack as six men scored in double figures to hand Boston University its seventh consecutive defeat. The Raiders are now 7-2.

In other games:

—Army coasted to a 91-73 victory over Rochester.

—Steve Laskey scored 19 points and Gary Dubnansky and Tom Neufer 18 each to pace RPI's 84-72 triumph over Alfred.

—Hobart led most of the way in topping the Coast Guard Academy 59-50.

—Union obliterated visiting Queens University of Kingston, Ont., 93-46.

—A basket by Dave Owen with three seconds left gave Utica a 78-77 squeaker over Hartwick.

—St. Lawrence rallied to beat Rochester Tecn 81-70 in overtime.

—In the State University Conference, Cortland nipped New Paltz 88-84, Geneseo beat Oneonta 61-56 and Albany defeated Oswego 74-66.

Quarterbacks Pat Sullivan of Auburn and Jerry Tagge of Nebraska look forward confidently to their graduation into the pro ranks after passing their final college grid tests with high marks.

Sullivan, the Heisman Trophy winner, and Tagge, who directed Nebraska to the national championship, played starring roles Saturday in the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu, respectively. Sullivan led the South to a 26-21 victory over the North at Mobile while Tagge paced the North to a 24-7 win over the South at Honolulu.

A blocked punt by Larry Horton of Iowa and fumble recoveries by Mike Crotty of Notre Dame and Bob Pifferini of UCLA enabled the North to beat the South, 27-8, Sunday in the Lions-American Bowl game at Tampa, Fla., which completed the schedule of post-season college bowl games.

"After losing to both Alabama and Oklahoma, I really wanted to play well," said Sullivan, who completed 11 of 23 passes for 162 yards. "I don't care which teams drafts me, but I sure hope that my Senior Bowl play boosted my stock with the pro scouts who were there."

Sullivan missed his team's last two practice sessions because of tendonitis in his throwing arm but said it didn't hurt during pre-game warmup and it was decided to alternate him with John Reaves of Florida. Sullivan took over early in the second period after Reaves went 1-for-4 passing and directed the South to a 12-7 halftime lead. Both Sullivan and Reaves passed effectively in the third and fourth periods.

Sullivan received an automobile for being voted the game's outstanding player.

"I'm glad I finished on the winning side," said Tagge after playing in his 33rd consecutive winning game, and then credited the North defense with making the win at Honolulu possible. "The defensive players gave the offense field position in the second half and that enabled us to open up."

Walt Patulski of Notre Dame, voted the game's outstanding player, Sherman White of California, Ron Curl of Michigan State and Jim Sherbert of Oregon State starred defensively for the North which held the South scoreless until there were 30 seconds left in the game.

The North's key defensive plays sparked a 17-point outburst in the second period in the Lions-American game.

The North took a 14-0 lead when Horton blocked a punt and fell on it in the end zone for a touchdown. Crotty recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and George Hunt of Tennessee, playing for the North, kicked a 37-yard field goal for a 17-0 lead. Then Pifferini recovered a fumble on the next kickoff and the three plays later Jackie Brown of Stanford ran 22 yards for a touchdown to make it 24-0.

The North had taken a 7-0 lead in the first period on an 88-yard pass play from Van Brownsen of Nebraska to Bob Christiansen of UCLA. The South scored in the third period on a one-yard sneak by Brian Sipe of San Diego State.

Hail NCAA Rule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Revolutionary . . . wonderful . . . one of the finest things that has ever happened to college athletics . . . ."

These remarks were from college coaches in response to the NCAA's new ruling that makes freshmen eligible for varsity competition in football and basketball.

But not all the reaction was favorable, according to an Associated Press survey.

Al McGuire of Marquette's second-ranked basketball team, for instance, thought "it is better for the young fellows to have a year out . . . it's throwing them into the rat race too soon."

But much of the reaction was favorable in a nationwide sampling of response to the rule change made Saturday. The NCAA made the historic decision at its annual convention in Hollywood, Fla.

"It's a revolutionary thing and I think it's wonderful," said basketball Coach Johnny Orr of Michigan. "I don't see why freshmen should sit down. I think a lot of freshmen will play."

Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, the dean of basketball mentors, also liked the ruling.

"I see no reason why a freshman can't play varsity basketball," said Rupp. "They play the same number of games that we do. It means one thing—you never get caught with a bad team. You can rebuild anytime and that's a wonderful thing."

Bill Musselman of Minnesota through the rule would have a great impact.

"There will be more pressure in recruiting the top 20 kids in the country, fighting for them like we never had before."

Dick Campbell, the Xavier basketball coach, said the freshman ruling came "as quite a surprise."

"Right now," said Campbell, "we'll have to start recruiting with people in mind who could play next year. I think the ruling will be more beneficial to football than to basketball."

The ruling made no difference to Missouri's Norm Stewart.

"I'm not sure there would be too many opportunities to use freshmen," he commented. "If it came down to using freshmen or having a freshmen program, I would rather have the program."

Meanwhile, a spot check among some of the nation's major college football conferences at the meeting in Florida brought some negative reaction.

"If we could get enough major conferences to agree, we wouldn't play freshmen," said Charles M. Neinas, commissioner of the Big Eight.

The Big Ten and Pacific-8 Conferences were also opposed to the use of freshmen while the Southwest, Missouri Valley, Atlantic Coast and Western Athletic conferences were for it.

Ratelle's Friends Making Him Rich

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

With the kind of friends Jean Ratelle has, a man can get rich playing hockey.

Thanks to buddies Rod Gilbert and Vic Hadfield, Ratelle earned a $500 bonus Sunday night when he collected five points to overtake Phil Esposito of Boston for the National Hockey League's mid-season scoring championship. And while all this was going on, the New York Rangers routed the Los Angeles Kings, 8-0, to regain first place in the East Division from the Bruins.

"Go talk to Vic and Rod, they put the puck in the net," the always modest Ratelle said after his collection of one goal and four assists left him with 71 points at the midway point of the campaign, one more than Espo registered in his first 39 games.

"Sure I'm very happy about what I did, but if it wasn't for the other guys I wouldn't go anywhere," Ratelle said. "Phil (Esposito) is probably the greatest center in the league, but he has to have those other two guys on his line working before he can score anything."

The third-place Montreal Canadiens fell seven points behind New York by dropping a 5-2 decision to the Chicago Black Hawks, and in other Sunday games, the Philadelphia Flyers blasted the California Golden Seals, 10-3, the Detroit Red Wings beat the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-2, and the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Buffalo Sabres, 2-1.

Ratelle, playing in his 600th NHL game, opened the scoring with his 26th goal of the season just 1:10 into the opening session and then he drew four assists as linemates Hadfield and Gilbert tallied twice each. It was the second consecutive five-point game for Ratelle and his third of the campaign.

"I knew I needed five points to pass Esposito but I didn't think I'd get it," said Ratelle. "If you're over-anxious for something it never works out. When you play your regular game you have a chance."

Ratelle is bidding to become the first Ranger scoring champion since Andy Bathgate 10 years ago and he seems a certainty to snap Bathgate's team scoring record of 88 points. Ratelle's personal high is 78 points.

While everyone else was concentrating on Ratelle's effort, goalie Gilles Villemure managed to turn in his second shutout.

Pit Martin, Bryan Campbell, Jim Pappin and Stan Mikita all scored within a 9:02 span of the opening period to lift Chicago to a 4-0 lead in a nationally televised afternoon game, and goalie Tony Esposito was able to protect that margin against the Canadiens. By winning, the Hawks stretched their West Division lead to 11 points over second-place Minnesota, which was idle.

Bill Lesuk, who had scored only three goals this season, doubled that output with his first hat trick as a Flyer in pacing Philadelphia past California. Serge Bernier had two goals and two assists for the Flyers and Rick Foley set a club record for defensemen by drawing four assists.

Rookie Marcel Dionne scored once and assisted on two other goals ad Detroit turned back Pittsburgh and Ron Ellis scored on a breakaway midway through the second period to provide Toronto with its winning margin against Buffalo.

Raider Five Holds SAA League Lead

SAUGERTIES — The Raiders rallied for a 54-point second half to turn back Naccarato's Insurance 87-70 Saturday and maintain a perfect (6-0) record in the Saugerties AA Basketball League.

In other action, second-place Allen Bus Lines (5-1) racked up the highest score of the season in checking The Irish 109-92 and John Freligh calmly sank two free throws with 28 seconds left to play to give Mahogany Ridge a 75-73 squeaker over Foster's Coach House.

Warren Gritmon led with 20 points, as the Raiders ground out a 33-29 half-time lead, then overpowered Naccarato's 54-41 after the recess. He also had eight rebounds. Gary Greiner potted 16, Ron Thomas 16 and Jerry Hawkins 15.

Jack Naccarato led his squad with 22 points and Al Hrdlicka added 17, but Tim Murphy (10 points) also turned in a strong performance with 20 rebounds and four assists. The 20 rebounds are a new league high.

All six Allen's were solidly in double figures, for Allen's against The Irish. Scott Miller pumped 23 and Frenk Allen had 22 for the winners. Don Komosa hit 19 points and added 14 rebounds. Rod Chando was credited with six assists and 16 points.

Mahogany Ridge led Foster's throughout most of the first half but fell behind 39-37 at the break. Wth two minutes remaining, Foster's were up by nine points, but with 28 seconds left it was a tie ball game 73-73 when Freligh made his two free throws.

Joe Evans was again a stalwart for the winners, tallying 28 points and grabbing 18 rebounds. Ron Miller shook off his injuries to rebound with a 23-point effort for the loserts.

Mahogany, which two weeks ago didn't figure to win a game, has now won two straight and climbed to a fourth-place tie. It was the Coachmen's fourth straight setback after two opening wins.

HEADING FOR VICTORY — Henri Duvillard of France swings around slalom sticks on his way to victory in the World Cup Special Slalom of the Golden Cup Alpine Races in erchtesgaden, Sunday. (UPI)

Palmer's Mistake Costs Him Slalom

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (UPI) —A gate judge made Tyler Palmer from Kearsarge, N.H., "winner" of the World Cup Special Slalom at the Gold Cup Alpine Ski races for almost three hours Sunday before he failed to note that the 21-year-old New Englander had missed a gate.

Although Palmer himself said at the finish line he missed a gate, the jury did not officially confirm Frenchman Henri Duvillard as the winner until checking Palmer's second run on a taped television recording.

Duvillard's total for the two heats over 600 meters and through 67 gates was 99.36 seconds while the American had a 99.23 clocking.

Palmer had no idea about the confusion of the racing committee and in the press center. At the time he was in his hotel where he jokingly remarked, "maybe it was a good thing I lost. Otherwise I might have become too cocky."

Palmer was only ninth after the first heat and the only chance he had to score his second slalom victory of the World Cup Series was by going all out, which he did.

"But Tyler went too fast, that was his mistake," U.S. men's coach Hans-Peter Rohr said.

"Once he felt how fast he was going he should have held back a little the Swiss coach added.

The red-haired American hit a pole when coming down too straight and too fast, lost his rhythm and swept past gate 51, immediately following. Rohr said the pressure of having won the first slalom at Sestriere, Italy, last month was on Palmer. "Now that he has lost he can ski more relaxed the next time. I am sure he will come back at Kitzbuehl, Austria, next week," Rohr added.

Tyler's younger brother Terry, 19, was the best American, finishing in a ninth place tie with Austria's Hansi Hinterseer. Hank Kashiwa from Old Forge, N.Y., was the only other American to finish. He was 14th.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

In many cases Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief from such pain and itching and actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true in many cases. In fact, many doctors, themselves, use Preparation H® or recommend it for their families. Preparation H ointment or suppositories.

Snowmobile Injures Two

KERHONKSON

Two persons were injured at about 1 p.m. Sunday when they were hit by a snowmobile as they were watching races sponsored by the Kerhonkson Fire Department in a field off Boiceville Road, in this community.

Ellenville State Police reported Paul Revoir, age not listed, of Wallkill, had just participated in a race when his snowmobile went off the track into a group of spectators. The machine struck Karen Smith, 18, of Kerhonkson, who suffered multiple contusions and abraisions, and 4-year-old Scott Gadzinski of Saugerties, who sustained severe lacerations of his legs.

Both were taken to the Ellenville Community Hospital. The young woman was treated and released. The boy was admitted for further observation and treatment.

Sergeant James A. Fitzgerald and Trooper Richard G. Bergin of Ellenville State Police investigated.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, January 11

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is no day or evening to get into disputes. It could take a long time to resolve differences of opinion and loss could result from disagreements. However, you can study and learn more easily than usual now whatever is necessary to improve your work.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Talk over with experts how you can improve your method of operation so you have greater success in own field of endeavor. Mate can act rather strangely now. This is just a passing mood—forget it.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plan just what it is you want an associate to do, but don't make your requests just yet. Tomorrow is better and then you can come to a quick agreement. Seek happiness with mate in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you are not eager to get that work done that is ahead of you, a change of attitude puts it behind you quickly, well. Do whatever will give you added energy and vim. Don't argue with others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You want to have a good time but be careful not to overspend. Take your mate along with you and show affection. A smile and a word of endearment can work wonders now.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Any strange acting on your part could bring your family down on your ear, so be adroit. You are in a rather sarcastic mood; tone down and be sensible. Avoid one who wants to lead you in wrong directions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take care that all of your facts are correct when you discuss that new plan with associates, or you could be embarrassed when asked questions. Much care in motion is important. Avoid accidents.

LIBRA (Step. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to be most careful where monetary matters are concerend since someone could try to rope you into some project that is hardly what it appears to be. Get advice from business and banking experts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you do not use others mercilessly for your own purpose and benefit, but show you are fair and just. You can get out to social affairs, but be most courteous to all. Avoid one who gossips.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Instead of fretting over what you cannot help, plan how to have more success in the future and get wheels in motion. Giving good advice to one who wants it is most valuable. Shrewdness on your part is important, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have some fine plan that others do not care to help you with now, but will be in the mood for tomorrow. Keep busy at personal duties. Social life is apt to be very disappointing today, tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Anything of a public nature can now be handled in most efficient and clever way, but do not seek the limelight. Credit matters need your attention — give it as quickly as possible. A proper budgeting of funds is wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study what those of different background from yours have to suggest and you can make greater progress. Make any writing brief, but bring out salient points. Take it easy tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who seems to trust nobody, so teach early to give others the benefit of some doubt and to live a really well-rounded happy life with many friends. Then there will be success throughout the lifetime. The field of investigation is fine here for both males and females. Some discipline early is most important since your child has so much energy it could otherwise be used in wrong directions.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

MAIL FRIEND: (Q.) I started writing a boy in the service. He was a friend of my sister's boy friend and I have never seen him. We wrote each other several letters.

When he came home on leave he came to see me. I was very disappointed and he was too. Maybe you know what I mean. But my mother insisted I should call him and invite him to dinner. I did, and he came.

But he did not call me or come to see me any more.

It is time for him to leave and my mother says I should call him again and see when he is leaving and where he will be. I don't want to. Do you think I should?—Pushed in Texas.

(A.) By no means. The invitation to dinner was all right. It was a sort of duty call. But any further calls on your part would be in poor taste.

Tell your mother this was something that just didn't work out and it is time to drop it.

DRESS LENGTH: (Comment) I am glad that this year dresses are a little longer. It is a pleasure to take a girl out when her dress isn't so short it's up around her hips all the time. I don't like people staring at girls I go out with.—Good Guy in Connecticut.

(A.) Despite the new fashions, many teen-age girls, and many who are older, still cling to the short, short skirts.

Some of them still show too much. They should learn to wear short skirts so as to keep their underwear out of sight at all times. This is not easy. It requires sitting straight, careful bending, careful handling of the legs. Some girls just can't manage it.

(Jean Adams has quick, mini answers to the following problems: Oily Skin, Dry Lips, Large Pores, Dark Circles, Large Nose, Dry Skin, Problem Skin. Also a list of Makeup Do's and Dont's. For one free mini answer, write to Jean Adams, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Say which answer you want. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope can be answered.)

TV Films Highlight Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Three film features made for television filled some network hours over the weekend.

These low-budget, quickly produced films are generally well produced, intelligently acted but often demonstrate that the item of vital importance is a good script.

Sunday night there was the two-hour "The Bravos," an old-fashioned cavalry-vs.-the Indians western made a couple of years ago.

It was packed with action—wagon trains being attacked, the fort short of ammunition and provisions, the grizzled wily scout, war whoops and galloping hoofs. George Peppard played the staunch fort commander, tough on the outside but a warm, wonderful human being inside. Best part were the great shots of plains and desert in the Southwest.

Old hat as it was, it seemed the best of the weekend movie crop.

ABC's Saturday night "Movie of the Weekend" was "The Astronaut," with Monte Markham playing, first, an astronaut dying from some mysterious atmospheric poison when making the first landing on Mars, but whose death was concealed to prevent the cutoff of the space agency's funds.

Most of the program, however, Markham played a look-alike imposter the agency heads slipped into the astronaut's space suit after splashdown.

Less futuristic science fiction than a highly unlikely romance—the dead man's wife and the imposter fell in love—the whole thing had rather unpleasant overtones in the elaborate plotting to conceal disaster from the public and even from the president. But just as the couple wandered into the sunset hand in hand, the hoax was revealed, just in time to save from a similar fate some Russian cosmonauts en route to Mars.

CBS's "Killer By Night" on Friday was a little short on credibility but at least the plot had the germ of an interesting idea: The frantic hunt by a public health doctor for the source of a diphtheria outbreak in a large city.

Robert Wagner played the harried physician attempting to track down spreaders of the contagious disease. His problems were compounded by a reluctant police captain, icily played by Gregg Morris.

There were a lot of grisly death-bed interrogation scenes, arguments between the doctor and the captain, and an improbable last minute solution. But at any rate, it wrapped up all the loose ends in one neat package.

Oswald: "Let's talk about 10s and nines."

Jim: "You don't count any points for them, but you use their presence or absence to decide whether or not to bid in a close situation. I assume your remark is the prelude to some hand played before I was born."

Oswald: "Close. You were two or three years old when the late Albert Morehead played a hand very similar to this one."

Jim: "It's easy to see what he did. He decided to open a trump and was careful to lead the nine. Obviously, South was a good player and he fell into the trap."

Oswald: "That is just what happened. South studied awhile and decided that Al had led from nine-small. This marked East with queen-ten-small and gave declarer a chance to avoid the loss of a trump trick against that combination. So South covered the nine wih dummy's jack. South entered dummy with a diamond and finessed against East's theatrical 10 of trumps. Al took the trick and led the ace of hearts and a second heart to East's king. East cashed his ace of clubs to set the contract."

Jim: "The lead is old-hat now in top flight circles. With any other opening declarer would bang down the ace and king of trumps to drop the queen and make his game."

And, you get up to the full $1,000.00 a month regardless of your age – even if you're over 65 . . . or 75. Plus, all dependents listed on your policy . . . your spouse, your children . . . also get the full $1,000.00 a month extra cash.

We pay you your extra cash from your very first day in the hospital for injuries due to accidents and from the fourth day in the hospital for a covered sickness.

The demand for this type of extra cash protection has been so great recently that we know there are many, many more people who need and want it. So, to make it easy for you to apply, we are ready to issue your policy at no cost to you. Yes, all you do is fill out the Application Form below and mail it. We will send you a policy by return mail if we accept your application – no salesman will call. Then, if you like it, just send in your premium payment within 10 days and you're covered.

SEND NO MONEY NOW

The important thing is that you can get started on this plan right now without risking a penny of your own money. When you get your policy you'll have plenty of time to examine it – even discuss it with your own insurance man, or any other trusted advisor. Then when you're completely satisfied that it's what you need and want as have thousands of other people like you, all you do is send in your premium payment within 10 days.

Here's an added feature for you – by paying your premium at any time within 10 days after you receive the policy, your coverage is retroactive to the Effective Date appearing on your policy which is the day we issue it – not the day you pay your premium. So, if you decide to continue your policy you'll be covered while examining it. Fair enough?

ALL EXTRA CASH PAID DIRECTLY TO YOU

All the extra cash you collect under the American Patriot Extra Income Hospital Plan is sent directly to you – not the doctor, the hospital or anyone else. And, according to our lawyers, you don't have to pay any taxes on the cash you collect – federal, state or local. When you get your extra cash, you decide how to spend it and whom to pay.

WHY PEOPLE LIKE YOU NEED THIS PLAN

You probably know how easy it is to run up a big hospital bill these days. Hospital costs have doubled in the last six years – and, on the basis of past experience, we can expect them to continue to go up. Your other insurance – the kind that pays doctors and hospitals – may not cover everything. And, even if it does, how about the regular household bills that go on even while you're in the hospital? That's why we urge you to add Extra Cash protection to your basic insurance program now.

You can use the money you get from this Extra Income Hospital Plan to pay the doctor, the hospital, the druggist or anyone else, or use it to take a get-well vacation or to help replace any income you lost, or pay the rent, buy food. It's your money to use as you wish . . . and, remember . . . your extra cash is in addition to anything you get from Blue Cross, Blue Shield, Group insurance, Major Medical, Medicare or any other insurance you have.

THE COMPANY BEHIND YOUR POLICY

As important as the cash income itself and the ease of enrollment, is this one vital fact; your policy is backed by the resources and integrity of American Patriot Health Insurance Company of New York, an affiliate of Union Fidelity Life Insurance Company. American Patriot is licensed by the State of New York, Pennsylvania and several other states.

Even If You're Over 65 You Get The Full $1,000.00 A Month

Extra Cash In Addition To Medicare and Other Insurance

An absolute must now that YOUR share of hospital costs has gone up again under Medicare

Medicare, as you no doubt know, does not cover all of your hospital and medical expenses while you're in the hospital. It has deductibles and co-insurance clauses. But now, the Extra Income Hospital Plan helps you meet your higher share of the cost of a hospital stay. So, doesn't it make good sense to get this Extra Cash protection? Wouldn't it be comforting to know that in case of an extended hospital stay, you would have this $1,000.00 a month extra cash to help you meet your bills?

All of the benefits described in this announcement apply to you regardless of how old you are because there's

Absolutely NO LIMIT on Age

This plan welcomes you no matter what your age. Even if you're 75, you're still welcome to apply by filling in the Application Form below.

Here's what we pay

(in addition to Medicare and any other insurance)

$1,000.00 a month ($33.34 a day) when you go to the hospital for a covered sickness or accident.

The full $1,000.00 a month is paid to all persons listed on your policy and for whom you pay the premium for their age group.

Benefits for accident are paid from your very first day in the hospital.

Benefits for covered sickness are paid beginning on your fourth day in the hospital of any one hospital stay.

Here's what we don't pay

This policy does not pay benefits for the first three days of any one hospital stay due to a covered sickness (benefits for accidents are paid from your first day in the hospital); nor does it cover confinements in U. S. Government hospitals for the treatment of members or ex-members of the Armed Forces, nursing or convalescent homes, extended care facilities, homes for the aged, mental institutions, facilities for drug addicts or alcoholics and hospitalization due to:

1. A sickness or condition you had before the effective date of the policy. However, after your policy has been in force for two years, you will collect full benefits for such pre-existing conditions, unless specifically excluded. A condition which is specifically excluded will not be covered at any time.
2. War or act of war. 3. Mental disorders.
4. Pregnancy, childbirth, miscarriage or any complications arising therefrom.

10 Important Questions Answered

That tell you how American Patriot's $1000.00 a month Extra Income Hospital Plan gives you the protection you need!

1. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital for any accident or covered sickness?
You will receive $1000.00 a month ($33.34 per day).

2. When do I collect my extra cash?
Benefits are paid from the first day in the hospital for accidents. Benefits for a covered sickness begin on the fourth day in the hospital. In each case, your extra cash is paid to you for as long as you stay in the hospital – up to 60 months for each separate covered sickness or accident.

3. Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full month?
Of course you will! You will receive cash at the rate of $33.34 per day.

4. When does this policy become effective?
It will go into effect on the day we accept your application and issue your policy. You will be eligible to receive your extra cash benefits after you've paid at least one month's premium.

5. Suppose I collect benefits for a certain sickness or accident. What happens if I am hospitalized again for the same condition?
You go back to collecting your $1000.00 a month until you've been hospitalized for a total of 60 months and have collected $60,000.00. Then, if the same condition puts you back in the hospital after you've resumed your normal activities for six months, you become eligible to receive $1000.00 a month again, for up to 60 additional months. Any new condition will be covered immediately, of course.

6. How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them any way you wish – for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses or anything else. You alone decide how to use the money.

7. Why do I need your Extra Income Hospital Plan in addition to my other insurance?
Chances are your present hospital insurance won't cover all your medical and other expenses, including household bills.

8. Can you drop me or raise my rates for health reasons?
No. We cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy because of changes in your health or the amount of cash you collect in benefits. Also, we guarantee that we will not adjust your rate – up or down – unless we take the same action with regard to all policies of this type in your state. At age 65 the premium will change to the rate then in effect for that age group. Your Policy is also Guaranteed Renewable to age 65 which means we cannot cancel or refuse to renew it so long as you make your premium payments on time. And even after you reach the age of 65, we cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy unless we take the same action on all policies of this type and class in your whole state.

9. How does my 10-day Free Inspection Offer work?
When you receive your policy you will have 10 days to inspect it to make 100% certain that you're satisfied. If you are, send in your premium payment and your coverage will be retroactive to the Effective Date on the policy – the day we issue it, not the day you pay your premium. Hence, if you continue this protection, you will be covered during the free inspection period.

10. Do I need a medical examination or a statement from my doctor to apply?
Definitely not! Just fill in the Application Form which includes questions about your health and mail it in at once. If your application is approved, we will issue your policy.

Do not delay – fill out and mail Application Form today. SEND NO MONEY!
